

Real Time

By Yehosua Sobol

Play: 583

Opening: 19/04/2005

Directed by Nola Chilton

Designed by Edna Sobol

Lighting by Meir Alon

Casting by Ruth Tonn-Mendelson

CAST

Danny Sela, father: Arie Moskona

Nurit Sela, his wife: Tatiana Canellis Olier

Karin, their daughter: Michal Warshai

Tom Sela, their son: Tomer Ben-David

Mati Levi, Nurit's older brother: Ilan Dar

Kim, Tom's girlfriend: Sivan Sasson

Gil, Karin's boyfriend: Zohar Strauss

Yohai, a sergeant: Benjamin David Eldar

Samir, a sniper: Hisham Suliman

A crucial evening in the life of a typical middle-class Israeli family. By the pool, in the garden of their wealthy, beach-front, suburb home, the Sella family members are confronted with existential, economic and moral hardships, that arise from contemporary Israeli life.

Tom, the son of the family, a reserve platoon commander of an elite infantry Unit, comes home for the weekend in shock after an action during his latest stretch of duty. He has been ordered to execute a mission, that in retrospect he regards as illegal. His moral contemplations affect the family as well as his devoted soldiers. The tensions amongst the family members and the soldiers reaches an inevitable climax, while the officer takes a stand that will be the start of a new drama.