

The Goat or Who is Sylvia?

By Edward Albee

Play: 587

Opening: 9/07/2005

Translated by: Rivka Meshulah

Directed by: Hanan Snir

Designed by: Alexandra Nardi

Music by: Yossi Ben-Nun

Lighting by: Meir Alon

CAST

Martin, a successful architect: Moni Moshonov

Stevie, his wife: Lilian Barreto

Ross, Martin's friend: Alex Ansky

Billy, the son of Martin and Steve: Ido Rozenberg

The Goat or Who is Sylvia? A bold new play by legendary playwright Edward Albee, tells the remarkable tale of Martin, a successful architect, who has just been awarded an international prize, been awarded a lucrative contract and celebrated his 50th birthday. But when everything seems to be going right, one can be sure that soon, everything will go wrong. Martin has to confess to his adoring wife Stevie and his teenage son that he is involved in a relationship which will probably destroy his marriage, his career and his life. All bets are off as comedy and tragedy intertwine in the most humane and surprising work from one of the greatest living playwrights.