The Play

Mikveh is the physical space in which this story unfolds, but it is also the humane space deep within the souls of these women living in a religious world of men, that binds them with it's laws and duties. Below the still waters of the mikveh- the Jewish ritual bath- flow the secrets and the lies in the lives of eight women- eight stories destined to be bound together by one wave of courage, truth and understanding the deep power of sisterhood. But not all can survive...
