

Imagine This

Play no. 738

Opening show: 23/01/2020

Playwriting and Songs: David Goldsmith

Music: Shuki Levy

Director: Moshe Kepten

Translation: Daniel Efrat

Piano/Sampler: Michal Solomon

Set Design: Eran Atzmon

Costume Design: Elena Kelrich

Movement: Ariel Wolf

Musical Director: Gil Feldman, Lior Ronen

Lighting Design: Avi Yona Bueno (Bambi)

Accompanist: Michal Solomon

Cast

Liliana: Amit Farkash / Mai Meler

Adam: Alex Krul / Niv Haviv Avraham

Joseph Waszynski: Yigal Sade

Nora: Rinat Matatov

Captain Blick: Roi Miller

Hannah Waszynski: Ronit Apel

Lola: Miki Peleg Rothstein

Henrik: Shahar Raz

Jan: Ben Yosipovich / Neil Mishan

Adolf: Dov Reiser

Leon: Amit Dvora

Band: Nir Hasdai, Gabriela Sternfeld, Niri Zehavi, Michal Brand, Omer Datz, Omri Peled, Dana Albo, Oded Sandach

It is 1942 in the Warsaw Ghetto. The Nazis have demanded that the ghetto's Jewish theater troupe continue performing for the Jews in the ghetto. These are the final days before the ghetto is to be liquidated, the fate of the ghetto's Jewish community lies in transports heading to the concentration camps. Joseph, the troupe's leader, decides to write a new play telling the story of the Jews of Masada, who barricaded themselves in their fortress and fought the Romans to their last breath. On the eve of the play's premiere, a Nazi officer instructs Joseph to reassure the play's audience and promise them that the deportation planned for the following morning will take them to comfortable camps where they can live happily. The troupe's leader and its members now face a moral question concerning their own lives and the lives of tens of thousands of other Jews in the ghetto.

Writer of the song "When You Grow Up": Noam Horev