

A SURFEIT OF LOVERS/PANIC

A Comedy by Robin Hawdon
(with acknowledgements to Georges Feydeau)

Play no. 681
Opening show: 06/10/2014

Translated by: Yaron Frid
Directed by: Alon Ophir
Sets by: Alexandra Nardi
Costumes by: Yelena Kerlich
Music by: Michael Gottlieb
Lighting by: Meir Allon

THE CAST

CLARICE attractive London wife: Ayelet Robinson

ROGER her husband: Nathan Ravitz

DAISIE her best friend: Tali Oren

ROBERT her French lover: Roi Miller/Yoav Donat

BOB Daisie's husband: Kobi Maor

RODNEY fashionable interior designer: Ami Smolarchik

The Play

During a weekend, Claris invites two men to her house, as her husband is about to be out of town on a business trip. One of them is her French lover, and the other is an interior designer she hired against her husband's wishes to remodel their house. After listening to a phone call between her husband and her friend, Claris realizes she is not the only one with romantic plans for the weekend. And so, a small slip of the tongue destroys a carefully planned weekend. A series of lovers at the married couple's house and plans collapse in a series of comical misunderstandings.